

Streamlined Mechanism for Extension of Land Leases in Hong Kong

(Version: 5 August 2024)

Development Bureau of the Government of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China

Hong Kong has a clear policy for land lease extension

- The Hong Kong Special Administrative Region Government promulgated the Land Policy in July 1997 for granting of and extension of land leases – contracts governing the use of land.
- The policy has remained in force and provides clarity, consistency and certainty for the effective functioning of the property market.
- General Purpose Leases (i.e. general commercial, residential, industrial leases), on expiry, will generally be extended as follows:
 - for a term of 50 years
 - no additional premium will be charged
 - owners only need to pay annual government rent at 3% of the rateable value

Streamlined mechanism for lease extension

- The Extension of Government Leases Ordinance took effect on 5 July 2024, providing a new streamlined standing mechanism for extension of general purpose leases.
- Continue to follow the 1997 Land Policy – nil premium + extended term of 50 years
→ A testament to the steadfast and successful implementation of “One Country, Two Systems”
- Extension by publication of “Extension Notice” for each batch of leases 6 years in advance of expiry. Lease extended by law unless listed on a “Non-extension List” published in tandem (i.e. negative listing).
- Lease extension made easy, efficient and hassle-free to owners:
 - no need to sign a new lease with the Government
 - all encumbrances, interests and rights (e.g. mortgages) will be carried forward

Clear policy and streamlined mechanism underpin the stability of the property market and the economy
